

The Future Schools Design Network and Big Picture Education Australia have combined to bring a world expert in 'Personalised Learning' - Charly Adler - to Launceston.

Charly Adler

Sharing insights on 'Engagement Through Personalisation'.

Monday 23rd May
1.00pm – 5.00pm
Tramsheds Inveresk

Registration $150.00 per participant ($100.00 for additional participants from the same school)

Charly looks at learning as organised curiosity.

Charly has worked intimately with Elliot Washor and Denis Litky at the original Big Picture school - The Met in Providence, Rhode Island.

As he says in his bio:

“Charly was an advisor at the original Met school. Charly took his students from ninth grade to graduation and, in spite of promising to enter the witness protection program after they graduated, he is still in touch with them. Charly has been with Big Picture and the Met for much of the past decade as a principal, the Connector, and as a school coach. “

To register please complete and return the attached registration form to stephen.walley@education.tas.gov.au by Friday 20th May at the latest. Schools will be invoiced.

To find out more about Charly see the Big Picture Website.
